Today I will be focusing on the new features that have been added to Photoshops CC 2019. This can be done considering that they have not been released at the time of this writing. Whether these are the best ones or not depends on your personal preferences and needs. This feature makes it easy to turn any shape, stroke, or fill into a Smart Object. A Smart Object is a file-in-a-file object. A common example of a Smart Object would be a simple logo shape. You could stamp the shape from a logo on a stamp and save it, or the stamp could even be embroidered onto another image in-between. Another example is the cropping of an image. Crops often contain important information that you don't want to lose. By creating a crop Smart Object, you can make a duplicate of the crop area and create another crop in the original image. In the new version of PS, you can now simply get rid of the crop object as a whole. The new version makes it easy to create a catalog of photos and include them in Photoshop. Make a catalog of your images, and either pick a template to use, or customize to create your own. it is also now possible to include an unlimited number of items. This is great news for those with dozens or hundreds of high-resolution images. Saving a catalog also makes it easy to include your photos in Photoshop by closing PS and clicking "Open Catalog…" and selecting the catalog you've made. There is a new batch export feature in the new version. You don't need to export multiple images, nor do you need to select network or USB connection, nor do you need to select Raw. A simple "Export As Camera Raw Files" will do the trick.
